MORE INDUSTRIES FOR CHARLEROI THE KEYNOTE OF TALKS BY BUSINESS MEN

PLANS ADVANCED AT SMOKER FOR FURTHERING INTERESTS OF TOWN

Promising Outlook for Good Business Year---Good Opportunities for Securing Number of Concerns to Locate Here

More and diversified industries for Charleroi, the encouragement and fostering of small concerns, and a general boosting policy all along the line was the keynote of a splendid and enthusiastic meeting of the Charleroi Business Men's Association at the smoker and lunch given at the association rooms in the Kirk and Clark building last night. About fifty were present, and some interesting and inspiring talks were made as to what Charleroi needs, can and should do, and what is before the town in the way of material advancement and well being.

In the absence of President John H. Bowers, who was suffering with an ulcerated jaw, W. C. Clark presided over the meeting. after it had been called to order by Vice President John B. Schafer. The company repaired to the large hall where tables were spread with an appetizing lunch, prepared under directon of the vice president, who is an expert, when it comes to cattering to a company of his fellows After the lunch, Toastmaster Clark weclomed the new members into the association These were about twenty in number, and Mr. Clarke stated that now with new blood in the association he looked forward to greater achievements. In the name of the association he welcomed the new members and visitors. Among the latter were E. L. Sears, president, F. H. Steen, corresponding secretary, and C. H. Truxal of the Belle Vernon Civic League. Some letter of regret were read from visitors who were invited, but were not able to attend.

H. J. Booth, superintendent of the Imperial Glass company, who was scheduled on the program for a talk on "The Outlook," was the first to respond He stated that he was an optimist of the first water, but there were nevertheless some clouds on the horizon of material progress. One of these was the insatiable American tendency to regulate other people's business, both by interference in various ways and by legislation. He cited his experience with Dr. Wiley of the United States Pure Food Commission, before whom he appeared the capacity of an expert in the blowing of bottles. Dr. Wiley, he said would admit of no variations due to the law of nature or mechanics, but insisted that the letter of the law must be carried out regardless. Mr. Booth read some letters in reply to inquiries he had made regarding the outlook of industries in which Charleroi is interested. A letter from the Pittsburg Plate Glass company officials stated that while the past year had been prosperous, the outlook for 1911 was somewhat disturbed and unpromising, owing largely to unsettled political conditions, which caused a hesitancy on the part of many industries to branch out. A prominent coal operator of the valley wrote that the past season had been an exceedingly good one in mining circles in the valley, owing to the big strikes elsewhere, which kept this section busy. Now that the lake trade is about to close, the outlook is not so encouraging for the winter, and more or less idleness may be expected among the various mines of the district, as there is a large surplus of coal on hand. Mr. Evans of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company wrote that the outlook was particularly favorable to their line of industry, and that the company contemplates extensive improvements and enlargement of their Charleroi plant. The Imperial Glass company, Mr. Booth's own company, he said, had more orders on its books than it had this time last year, and he expected the plant would run every day and night until the Fourth of next July.

George S. Might, who has recently returned from a trip to the Southwest, told of a bull fight he had witnessed at Juarez, Mexico, which was held in honor of President Diaz and his suite. Mr. Might said he was introduced to the president, but not knowing the ethics of bull fighting was at a loss at first whether to root for the bull or the matador. Finally he discovered that the sympathy of the crowd seemed to be with the matador and he took occasion not to get in wrong. He passed for inspection one of the barbs with which the bandilleros torture the bull before the matador appears. The fight was a success, he said, as four bulls and two horses were killed. Mr. Might spoke of the remarkable hustling spirit of the west where all pulled together, and advised the same methods for Charleroi.

J. K. Johnston, superintendent of the Charleroi Coal Works, was on the program for a talk on "Reminiscences," but he said he preferred to leave the past behind and dip into the future He said that many failed to appreciate the possibilities and magnitude of the industrial zone of the Monongahela valley. Draw a circle of fifteen miles with Carleroi the centre, he said, and you have a territory that produces more coal than the entire Empire of Russia. Within this circle $10,000,000 is paid out annually in wages. Mr. Johnston spoke of the necessity of more and diversified industries for Charleroi, something that would utilize unproductive capital in the town. From personal investigation he finds that there are 534 vacant lots still in Charleroi, out of the 2,250 of the original plan. These he said represent an idle capital approximating $400,000. This would make room for 500 more families, and Mr. Johnston advocated the investment of money to attain the desired ends in advancing the interests of the town.

F. H. Steen, corresponding secretary of the Belle Vernon Civic League, told what that organization has accomplished. It has secured a free bridge and a number of miles of good roads. It is now acting in conjunction with Monessen for more roads that will unite the two towns with other populous centers. They expect to land five miles of brick and macadamized roads. Mr. Steen advocated an alliance of the three towns for a good roads crusade, and his organization has offered its service to any organization within a radius of ten miles for that purpose. Prof. I. T. Daniel, musical director of the public schools, who is a Welshman, created considerable amusement by interpretating the unpronounceable name of a small town in his native

Paying Course for This Year

All But Twenty Seats Reserved for Season's Attractions

For the first time in years Charleroi will have a paying entertainment course this year. Last night was the time for the reservation of seats at Piper's pharmacy for the Citizen's Entertainment course, and all but 20 seats in the rear of the house were taken for the entire season. This means that $510 in round numbers has been taken in from the sale of seats. The course costs $400 and the expenses are estimated at $70, partly paid for through other means than the seat sale. The course this year, furnished by the Coit Lyceum Bureau of Cleveland, Ohio, is considered an exceptionally good one

AFTER MORE TERRITORY

Monessen To Take In McMahon and Other Boroughs

Monessen proposes by the process of consolidation to take in McMahon borough shortly and by annexation secure other contiguous territory. McMahon borough council stated the process of consolidation by passing an ordinance endorsing the project, and Monessen council has passed a similar resolution. What remains to be done now is for the councils of the two boroughs to meet and establish the ward lines, after which it will be submitted after a thirty days' time limit, to the voters for consideration. Inasmuch as the sentiment is in favor of consolidation the proposition will without doubt be passed.

By the process of annexation Monessen proposes to secure Wireton, East Monessen and Dutchtown. To do this requires the signatures on a petition of a sufficient number of citizens previous to an election. McMahon borough has an estimated population of 1,200, Wireton 800, East Monessen 200 and Dutchtown 200.

Don't Let the Girlies Get You

That's the theme that runs through the song of that name now being sung with immense success in the great musical farce, "Alma, Where Do You Live?"

The words of the song are by George V. Hobart, the well known author, while Jean Briuet is given credit for the music.

This is the song and the play that is drawing the crowds to Weber's Theatre, New York City.

And it is this song—the words and music complete—that will go free as a special feature with each copy of next Sunady's New York World.

A great newspaper and a great song for a few cents. Order a copy from your newspaper in advance.

MAY ISSUE $100,000 IN BONDS

Monessen Borough Planning to Make Improvements

ORDINANCE AUTHORIZED

Monessen council has instructed Borough Solicitor A. M. Waynt to draw up an ordinance authorizing a vote on a bond issue of $100,000 to be used for improvements in that town within the next year or so. The proposed bond issue it is believed will arouse some heavy opposition.

It is proposed to use the money in street work in various parts of the town and for in talling new sewers. Part of it will also be used to pay off some of the floating indebtedness. The issuing of $100,000 in bonds would about bring Monessen up to its limit. At the time according to the auditors report for the year ending March 1, 1910, the total municipal indebtedness was $251,286.78. The valuation is $5,500,000. A borough is allowed to issue seven per cent of its valuation in bonds by the State laws, and this would admit of Monessen having a total indebtedness of $385,000. With an issue of $100,000 there would only be left $33,714 on which to go and come.

In drawing up the ordinance the borough solicitor will be aided by the finance committee of council, and it is hoped to have the matter in readiness shortly to present to the people

TWO BUILDINGS ARE DESTROYED

Homes of Miners at Fairhope Are Burned to The Ground

By a fire which originated from a spark in some greasy miners'clothing, two company houses were burned to the ground at Fairhope, near Fayette City last night, entailing a loss of probably $4,000. The fire started about 9 o'clock in a house occupied by James Hunter. Miners rooming there were in the habit of throwing their mine clothes in a corner when they removed them, and it is supposed that a spark from a match thrown by a child into the heap started the blaze. When discovered the fire had gained great headway and it was impossible to do anything to save the building. An adjoining house occupied by Albert Fields took fire and it was impossible to save it. Many people went from Fayette City to tender aid, but through lack of water or fire fighting apparatus were unable to do much.

Masquerade Surprise

The Excelsior Club of Dunlevy gave a masquerade surprise party to Mrs. Walter Colvin of Main street. The evening was passed in music and singing after which a dainty lunch was served. There were about 20 present.

RAILROAD TO BE EXTENDED INTO NEW COAL TERRITORY

Candidates Making Tour of District

McJunkin, for Congress In Twenty-Second, and Others of Party Visit Charleroi

An automobile party containing J. D McJunkin, Esq., of Butler, Republican candidate for Congress in the Westmoreland Butler district, Dr. E. P. Weddell of Scottdale, candidate for Assembly in the second Westmoreland district, Carey L. Schuck of Monessen, candidate for Assembly and H. R. Pore of the Monessen Independent passed through Charleroi shortly after noon on their way from Monessen to North Bele Vernon. They met a number of people here.

BIG AMOUNT IS CLAIMED

Vesta Miner Asks $25,000 Damages for Injuries

ALLEGES POOR CONDITIONS

John Mingak from up the river has filed a statement of claim in a suit against the Vesta Coal company. He seeks $25,000 damages for personal injuries sustained March 17, 1990. On that date Mingak was injured by a fall of coal and slate. His foot was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated at the ankle and his leg was broken above the knee, so that he was permanently injured. The accident occurred in a portion of the mine known as a "cut through." Mr. Mingak avers that notwithstanding the fact that this "cut through" was 30 feet long, nine feet wide and six feet high, it contained no post, or supports of any kind to keep the roof, and parts thereof from falling; also that he was furnished with no equipment or appliance of any kind to carry off and care for the water that was dripping from the roof of this "cut through." Negligence on the part of the company by its employes is alleged. T. H. W. Fergus represents the plaintiff. The plaintiff says that he was in no wise guilty of contributory negligence.

DETECTIVES AFTER WOMAN IN BLACK?

Monongahela has a mystery Recently a "woman in black" appeared and the latest now is that she isn't a woman but a man and wanted for murder in New York. The alleged murderer is claimed to be somewhat demented and has appeared all over the country in the guise of the woman in black This fact is vouched for by a man, who is an entire stranger found roaming the hills of Monongahela recently. When questioned he whispered he was a real sure 'nuf detective, and to prove it exhibited a disguise which would make Old Sleuth green with envy. At last reports he nor the woman had been seen.

M. & W. to Construct Line to Ten Mile

THROUGH TO THE RIVER

Plans Formulated for Continuing Tracks to Connect With P. R. R.

To gain admittance into new coal fields about to be opened up in the Marianna and Zollarsville region, the Monongahela and Washington railroad company will shortly begin work on the constructon on a new extension from their present terminus at Marianna to Ten Mile Creek, within four miles of the Monongahela river. Surveys have been made and rights of way secured, and it is only a matter of a short time until the actual work will begin.

The railroad has been guaranteed sufficient tonnage by a number of coal men about to open up new mines, should they construct such a road. Eventually the road will be extended to the river, and then nearly all the coal will pass over the Monongahela lines of the Pennsylvania railroad from Marianna and vicinity via Charleroi north. This will be done to secure the advantage of a better grade.

Yesterday officials were loking over the route and consiuering the feasibility of constructing the line to the river at once completing the extension from Ten Mile.

WILL ENTERTAIN GREAT COMMANDER

Charleroi Maccabees Plan to Receive Noted Personage of Order

Lady Maccabees are issuing invitations for a social affair to be given Thursday evening, October 27, at their meeting place in P. H. C. hall at 8 o'clock, sharp when the guests will be afforded the pleasurable opportunity of meeting Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, great commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World. Cards of Mrs. Brown accompany the invitations, which must be presented at the door. The Ladies of the Charleroi Hive will give a public drill, and will also serve refreshments. Everything is free and all those who are fortunate enough to receive invitations will miss a treat if they don't respond to meet Mrs. Brown, and spend an evening with her. The fact that Miss Julia Sullivan is the chairman of the entertainment committee speaks well for the program.

ATTACK ON TENER WAS BOOMERANG

Reputable Editors Repudiate Journalistic Mendacity.

NOT A SINGLE DIRECT CHARGE

Candidate For Governor Helped Rather Than Injured by the Work of the Mud Slingers.

Reputable newspapers throughout Pennsylvania are resenting and condemning the disgraceful journalistic attacks that have been made on John K. Tener, the Republican nominee for governor.

Misrepresentations of a scandalous character have been made in the attempt to ruin the reputation of Mr. Tener, but investigations into the facts of the case have shown that Mr. Tener has acted in a thoroughly honorable and upright manner in every transaction that has been referred to and through which his political enemies have sought to place him in a false light before the people.

The efforts of a sensational newspaper to have it appear that Mr. Tener, through his connection with the Public Utilities Corporation, has placed himself in a position to forfeit the support of his fellow citizens as a candidate for governor, have failed signally.

Not a solitary fact has been submitted showing that Mr. Tener should be criticised for any act in relation to this company. While it is admitted that up to date the enterprise has not been profitable, reputable business men who are interested in the corporation are convinced that it will ultimately be successful.

Mr. Tener met the attack upon him with a prompt and sweeping disavowal of any wrongdoing.

"It is a palpable attempt to besmirch my character," said he, "and to question my integrity, without the slightest justification and without a scintilla of fact to base an intimation of wrongdoing upon my part.

"The article," he declared, "is an effort to promote the selfish and pecuniary interests of a mercenary and degenerate publication. There is absolutely nothing to conceal. I became connected with the company through W. L. Christman, a reputable attorney in Philadelphia. When I found I could not give the time to the company I severed my connection with it absolutely, never having accepted any of its stock. My relations with the company were entirely straightforward and honorable in every respect."

Mr. Christman, to whom Mr. Tener referred, is one of the leading members of the Philadelphia bar and a man of the highest reputation in the community. He is now president of the company, which was formed, among other things, to construct a railroad on the coast of Oregon to open up a big lumber field. Mr. Tener was voted $50,000 worth of stock, but declined to accept it. He was connected with the company for but two months, when he resigned.

Men of Affairs Interested.

A number of well known business men are on the board of directors of the company, including Simeon Merrell, president of the Yost Manufacturing company, of Meadville, Pa.; William B. Margerum, a merchant in the Reading Terminal market, Philadelphia; General Russell Thayer, who is also a director in the Philadelphia and Suburban Elevated Railroad company; Colonel William Bender Wilson, formerly of the Pennsylvania railroad, and for whom the Pennsylvania legislature voted a medal of honor for distinguished services during the Civil War; W. W. Pinkerton, of the Pinkerton Construction company; Frederick Schoff, a manufacturer, who has been prominent in many civic movements in Philadelphia, and Thomas Bromley, Jr., who is a member of the Committee of Seventy, and has been active in a number of reform movements in the Quaker City. General Thayer was among the first to declare that Mr. Tener's connection with the company was entirely honorable. He predicts the ultimate success of the enterprise.

Throughout the several publications care has been exercised to avoid directly charging Mr. Tener with any specific act of wrongdoing, but by innuendo and by linking him with promoters who were identified with the unsuccessful companies taken over by the Public Utilities Corporation, an effort is made to discredit Mr. Tener.

In commenting upon the attack on Mr. Tener the editor of the Pittsburg Gazette-Times, among other things, says:

"Mr. Tener says his relations with the company were 'straightforward and honorable in every way.' As far as his friends are concerned his repudiation of the slander was scarcely necessary; they know he is an honest man, and they do not question his integrity. But it is just as well that he should denounce the attempt to besmirch his character, as he has done for the information of the people of the state, before whom he is appearing as the Republican nominee for governor.

"As for this bit of sensationalism which has been introduced into the campaign, it is a disgrace to Journalism. It is essentially a low-grade political trick, partly intended to attain the meanest of partisan ends and partly to achieve a feat of commercialism of the most despicable character."

Black Hand Methods.

In commenting upon the fact that the newspaper which printed the sensational story solicited orders for the sale of the paper two days in advance of its publication from politicians to have it distributed as a campaign document, the Gazette-Times says: "Instead of publishing its alleged revelations in the usual course of business as a purveyor of news and thus conveying to the public such information as it deemed proper without regard to politics, it served a sort of Black Hand blackmailers' notice upon Senator Penrose that unless he withdraw Mr. Tener within 48 hours it would publish certain exposures to prove the latter's unfitness for the governorship. Aside from the fact that Senator Penrose has neither the power nor the authority to withdraw Mr. Tener and that the miserable creatures making this threat knew Mr. Penrose would do nothing of the sort, the effect of this preliminary publication was to subject Mr. Tener to grave suspicions without redress or the opportunity to defend himself for two whole days during a critical stage of the state canvass. Here was the real infamy of this wretched sensationalism though the story as it finally appeared is hardly less shameful in construction.

"The whole affair, however, turns out to be a 'flash in the pan.' There is nothing to show either culpability or wrongdoing, unfitness or dishonesty on Mr. Tener's part."

Upon every hand citizens are denouncing the authors of the attack and the fact has been demonstrated that the unwarranted criticisms have helped rather than hurt Mr. Tener in his canvass for the governorship.

Bitterly resenting the work of the journalistic mud-slingers, Republicans everywhere are evincing a keen interest in the campaign and are determined to emphasize their contempt for the slanderers by rolling up a great vote for Mr. Tener and the full Republican ticket on election day.

From the methods now being resorted to by the Keystone Party managers almost anything may be anticipated in the way of despicable campaigning in the closing days of the canvass. The masked man with stiletto is abroad and Mr. Tener has been picked as the victim. Every conceivable form of malice and venom will be employed in the desperate game to elect Berry governor.

These men recognize the strength of Mr. Tener with the people and they are driven to desperation and thuggery in their mad attempts to stem the tide of popular sentiment that is sweeping Mr. Tener on to victory.

BERRY DEALS WITH LIQUOR INTERESTS

On Local Option Platform But Pledged Not to Work For it.

HYPOCRISY OF THE MAN

Accuses Both His Rivals, But Cannot Deny That He Made Compacts With Saloon Men.

William H. Berry, the Keystone Party nominee for governor, has up to date failed to reply to the charge that he made a deal with liquor men and representatives of liquor interests both prior to and at the Allentown convention, to win the support of saloonkeepers and others affiliated with the liquor traffic in his effort to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Although it is some time since Mayor Liebel, of Erie, formally charged Mr. Berry with holding a conference with "Jim" Mulvihill, the liquormen's state representatives, at Allentown, with a view to getting the votes of certain delegates in the Democratic convention, Mr. Berry has made no specific denial.

The charge is now made that during the gatherings of Democrats at Harrisburg, when the date for the state convention was being determined upon, Mr. Berry met representatives of the Lackawanna County Democracy, who are largely interested in the whisky and brewery business, and gave them such assurances that he was promised the votes of the delegates to the Democratic state convention.

When the Lackawanna delegation reached Allentown they wanted a direct interview with Mr. Berry, and they were closeted with him in a room on the Hotel Allen for some time. There and there Berry assured them that if he was elected governor he would do nothing to further the cause of local option and they could depend upon him to be absolutely neutral.

So satisfactory were the guarantees given them by Mr. Berry that every man in the delegation when the roll was called in the Democratic convention voted for William H. Berry.

Liquor Men For Berry.

In this delegation there were five saloonkeepers and one collector for a brewery. There were a number of other liquor men in various delegations in the Democratic convention who voted for Mr. Berry upon assurances received from him.

And yet Mr. Berry in his nightly speeches talks about liquor men having dominated the conventions which nominated both his competitors and would have it appear that he is the implacable foe of the liquor interests. He is running upon a local option platform adopted by the Keystone Party state convention, yet he is under pledge to the liquor men of Lackawanna county and elsewhere to do nothing, in the event of his selection, to promote the cause of local option.

Mr. Berry has been accused of hypocrisy by men who have known him for years and who have watched his vacillating course in politics, and every day seems to bring forth fresh evidence to bear out their allegations.

Preaching politics in churches on Sunday, and on weekdays making deals with representatives of the liquor traffic, seems to come quite natural to Mr. Berry.

NEIGHBORS SHOW FAITH IN TENER

Business Men of His Home Town of Charleroi Indorse Him.

HIS TOUR OF TRIUMPH

Republican Nominee For Gubernatorial Honors Greeted Everywhere by Immense Audiences.

A dispatch from Charleroi, the home town of John K. Tener, tells of the quick action of the neighbors of the Republican nominee for governor, following the journalistic attacks made upon him, in expressing their absolute faith and confidence in him and their interest in his candidacy.

For twenty years John Tener has been doing business in his community, and never in all that time has he been accused of doing any person out of a penny. He is connected with a number of business ventures—in fact, with everything that goes to make up the industrial life of that section. Naturally there are some who do not agree with everything he does, but no one doubts that he is open and above board in all his actions and thoroughly honest. The manner in which he has met his accusers is the action of an honest man. "I have nothing to conceal; I court investigation of my every action, private or political!" he says.

Dozens of persons in Charleroi and the surrounding towns who, before the publication of this malicious yarn, were either considering the voting of some other ticket or at least luke warm in the matter, have expressed themselves in no uncertain manner since it came out. Recognizing it for what it is, a political canard of the first water, they are now unqualifiedly for Tener and the whole Republican ticket. They have no use for "reformers" who stoop to such despicable measures.

Last week was held the regular monthly meeting of the Charleroi Business Men's association, of which Mr. Tener is a member.

This organization is composed of all of Charleroi's progressive, hustling merchants, manufacturers and business men generally. Its president is a man formerly lined up with the anti-Tener faction in Washington county. Much of the hustling in behalf of Mr. Tener before the State convention was done by the association. And now it comes out unequivocally for him in a set of resolutions drafted by a committee composed of John B. Schaffer, John H. Bowers and William Kirk.

Business Men Speak Out.

Following are the resolutions, adopted unanimously:

"Resolved, That we, the members of the Charleroi Business Men's association, knowing our fellow member, Hon. John K. Tener, to be a man of good, sound judgment, unquestionable integrity and rare business qualifications, and one who has done much for the interest of Charleroi, and believing that a business administration has proven to be the best for the state of Pennsylvania, and feeling assured that Hon. John K. Tener is thoroughly competent to fill the high office of governor and will give the people a good, clean administration, and uphold with honor the sacred duties of this position, we heartily endorse his candidacy, and wish him every success on Nov. 8.

"J. H. BOWERS, President.
"M. ADAMS, Secretary."

State Treasurer C. Fred Wright, who has been making the tour of the state with Mr. Tener, is enthusiastic over the success of the trip and says the meetings are much larger than even those of the Stuart gubernatorial campaign four years ago.

"Mr. Tener is making a splendid impression," said Mr. Wright, "and is winning votes for the Republican ticket wherever he goes. There can be no question about his popularity in all of the counties of his home territory, even beyond the confines of his congressional district.

"Mr. Tener stands well with his neighbors and those who know him best throughout western Pennsylvania. At every place we stopped the leading and most representative citizens, men of affairs and men who are the leaders in their respective communities, were on hand to greet Mr. Tener and to evince an interest in his campaign.

"If other parts of the state give as big a vote relatively as Mr. Tener will get in western Pennsylvania he will be elected by a tremendous majority."

Photoplay Hereafter

Hereafter, instead of being known as "moving pictures" "life motion pictures," or "electric theatre" exhibitions, this form of entertainment will be known as the "photoplay." This title was adopted as the winning name in a contest conducted by the Essanay Film Manufacturing company of Chicgo. Manager R. L. Barnhart of the Palace Theatre will adopt the title, and it is expected that managers generally throughout the country will do the same.

People pay for what they get but must insist on getting what they pay for. Ask for a Picadura Import 5 cent cigar and be sure you get it. Bissinger Bros. 62t2

The Origin of Pyrography.

About a century ago an artist named Cranch was standing one day in front of a fire in his home at Axminster. Over the fireplace was an oaken mantelpiece, and it occurred to Cranch that this expanse of wood might be improved by a little ornamentation. He picked up the poker, heated it red hot and began to sketch in a bold design. The result pleased him so much that he elaborated his work and began to attempt other fire pictures on panels of wood. These met with a ready sale, and Cranch soon gave all his time to his new art. This was the beginning of what is now known as pyrography.

Neglected Opportunities.

"This is the site of an ancient city," announced the Arab guide. "As you see, not one stone remains upon another."

"You fellows lack enterprise," commented the tourist. "Why don't you take some of this building material and construct some ruins?"—Pittsburg Post.

An Extraordinary Shoe Purchase and Sale

Several thousand pairs, representing surplus stocks of large Eastern manufacturers offered at the most absurdly low prices.

Women's shoes, men's shoes and children's shoes; there will be bargains for every member of the family. It will be many a long day before such values as these are available.

The unseasonable Fall weather has been a great deterrent to business with the big manufacturers; many have been compelled to accept big cancellations of orders, which afforded us unusual advantageous buying opportunities.

Will you pay $1.90 for $3.50 Footwear?

Well, women, that's the bargain we offer for the next two days, new Fall styles in patent kid, patent colt, with dull and cloth tops, Cuban and military heels, sale price $1.90

Women's $3 50 patent kid button shoes $2 20

New Fall styles in women's patent kid button shoes with the new black velvet tops; fitted with Milo buttons, an exclusive feature; plain and tipped toes, Cuban and military heels, always sell for $3.50, sale price $2.20

Several surplus lots of women's tan button shoes, short vamps, manufactured to sell at retail at $3.50, Sale price $2.40

Men's $3.50 Fall Style Shoes, specially priced, $1 90

Warm Floors and Healthy Children Make Happy Homes

There is no better way for you to avoid worry and expense than by insuring your children's health.

Warm floors in the home, which is the children's play house in winter, are assured when using Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater.

The steel base and body construction allows the heat to be radiated to the floor keeping it warm during the coldest weather.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

The Cleanest—Easiest to Care For

Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal, Crushed Coke, Wood and Cobs.

Users of coal must remember that the ordinary heater is a big care to operate. That its smoke and ashes entail dusting, curtain washing and carpet sweeping. Think then of the ease of operation and the cleanliness of Cole's Hot Blast.

Cole's Hot Blast has a guaranteed smoke-proof feed door—open the feed door and the current of air draws the smoke directly across the top of stove to the stove pipe—away from the opening. Contrast this simple, cleanly feed with the side door in an ordinary heater. The side door used on other stoves permits escape of dirty smoke, unpleasant gas and accumulated soot drops from it. If you overfill a side door stove, coal falls to the floor. And note this, you cannot make a side door heater air-tight—an everlasting advantage in favor of Cole's Hot Blast which is air-tight and guaranteed to remain so always.

No fires to build—the fire is never out in this remarkable heater from fall until taken down in the spring.

Better select one today—surely it is the heater you need—

Consumption Develops From Pneumonia

Consumption readily attacks those who have had Pneumonia. Many sufferers from tuberculosis give a history of having had Pneumonia. The lungs thus weakened are more easily attacked by the germs that cause consumption.

For all those with "weak lungs," especially those who have had pneumonia, Eckman's Alterative is the appropriate remedy. Cures of consumption are accomplished by Eckman's Alterative. But take it in time. There is no wisdom in waiting until consumption is established. Health is not fully valued until sickness comes. A remarkable recovery follows:—1220 Girard Ave., Phila., Pa.

Gentlemen: "I wish I had known of Eckman's Alterative two years ago. Since taking it I have gained twenty-eight pounds and I cannot but be very thankful to you and the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

(Signed) THOMAS REILLY.

Eckman's Alterative cures Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections, also Consumption in advanced cured cases and write to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. For Sale by all leading druggists and

SEASON STARTS TOO EARLY SAYS JOSEPH KALBFUS

"The present season for quail, wild turkeys, squirrel and pheasants comes early," Dr Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission is quoted as having said: "The weather we are having this fall proves it. The game is really not good until cold weather set in and we are now having almost summer heat and yet the quail season is opened."

Dr. Kalbfus said that the present weather conditions would undoubtedly result in a sentiment in favor of a change in the game laws to permit of the season being made later in the year. This has been agitated for some time and suggestions are made that November be made the month instead of part of October.

The quail season opened Saturday and from all reports received at the office of the commission there is an abundance of quail in the western portions of the State and a fair amount in almost every county favorable for existance of the game bird.

HEED THE WARNING!

Backache is the Signal That Kidney Diseases are Nigh

Who doesn't dread the advanced stage of kidney troubles—Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy and gravel.

But today throughout America, there are tens of thousands suffering the torments of hopeless agony, just because they failed to heed the first signals the certain warning of future misery—backache.

Backache means that your kidneys are weak; they may have become inflamed from cold or injury, but in all probability they are stuffed up, clogged with impurities fromthe blood, for you know of course, that the blood passes through the kidneys every few minutes, and that the kidneys strain the blood of its impurities, which pass out through the urine.

Stop kidney diseases at the start, that's the easiest way, and Thompson's Barosma is the surest remedy. W. F. Hennings sells it, and is willing to guarantee it to stop backache, sideache and sharp shooting pains and to cure Bright's disease, and end all kidney, liver and bladder trouble or money back.

It is a great maker of pure blood, and a builder of flesh, because it promptly cleans the kidneys, and puts them in such perfect condition that the impurities are thoroughly strained from the blood as it passes through and are promptly eliminated with the urine. Thompson's Barosma is only 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle

W. F. Hennings, Graduate in Pharmacy, Cor. Fifth and McKean avenue, Charleroi, Pa.

ROAD SHOWS ARE COMING TO COYLE

Manager John Penman, who has leased the Coyle Theatre, has discontinued vaudeville and at the urgent request of many of the patrons of the house will put on an occasional road show The first of these will be given nextTuesday evening, October 25, when Neil Twomey's dramatization of Augusta J. Evans' celebrated novel, "St. Elmo," will be present. Since its first appearance about fifty years ago St Elmo has been by far one of the most popular literary productions dealing with southern life. Since it has been dramatized the play has proven one of the greatest attractions on the stage. It has been presented in Pittsburg recently, where it made a great hit. To present the play properly a carload of special scenery is employed, and a cast selected for the requirement of the plot.

It is the intention of Manager Penman to book only the best road shows, and he will probably not present one oftener than once a week. By this means he will be enabled to select only the best. In the mean time he will present moving pictures at the Coyle Theatre, three reels nightly.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

PASS USER IS NOT ENTITLED TO SEAT

So Decides Court in Case Terminating from Affair on Local Car

Passengers who ride upon street cars in Pittsburg upon free passes may be ejected from their seats and the seats given to passengers who have paid cash fres, according to a decision in Allegheny county in criminal court before Judge Carnahan. A jury found Conductor Rudolph Green not guilty of assault and battery upon H. Garabet.

Garabet gave a street car pass as fare on a Charleroi car recently and was about to take a seat when prevented by Conductor Green who reminded him he was riding upon a free ticket. Green ejected Garabet after a fight. It is one of the standing rules of the railways company says Green, for cash pasengers to be given the preference over those riding upon passes Garabet was ordered to pay the costs.

A VOLCANIC BEACON.

Curious Lighthouse of the Republic of San Salvador.

The republic of San Salvador, on the Pacific side of Central America, is the only government on earth that collects lighthouse fees on account of a volcano that it owns.

The volcanic beacon is about eight miles inland from the port of Acajutla and its pillar of cloud by day and its fire sky night are visible for many miles out at sea. It erupts every seven minutes and is just as accurate as any revolving light that warns mariners in any part of the world. This volcano has been keeping up this seven minute series of eruptions ever since any one can remember. It is a favorite amusement of visiting gringoes to sit by the hour during the lazy afternoons and, watch in hand, time the eruptions until they tire of the amusement and fall asleep.

Every vessel that puts in at Acajutla—and it is quite an important port of call along that part of the coast—has to pay its lighthouse fee. There is no other lighthouse than the volcano, but that is a sufficient excuse for the government of Salvador to make a charge for its services. The explosions that accompany the eruptions sound like detonations of heavy charges of dynamite, but are not sufficient to shake the ground perceptibly more than a mile or two from the summit of the crater. At night there is a spurt of fire, a muffled report and a cloud of steam. By day only the steam is visible.—New York Press.

CONAN DOYLE WAS LATE.

The Lonely Schwarenbach Inn and a Literary Coincidence.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once walked over the Gemmi. He was much impressed by the desolate appearance of the lonely looking Schwarenbach inn. Here, it seemed to him, was an ideal scene in which a novelist might locate a story of mystery and crime.

He proceeded to invent a story of mystery and crime suitable to the creepy environment. It was a story of murder—the murder of a long lost son just home from the wars by his own father, the needy innkeeper, who did not recognize him until after the deed was done, but had resolved to kill and rob the first lonely stranger that passed that way with money in his pocket.

"The very thing," thought Sir Arthur, and he went down the hill cheerfully revolving the morbid conception in his mind. Then a strange thing happened.

After dinner, in the hotel at Lenkerbad, he picked up a volume of Maupassant's short stories and he found that the French author had not only been to the Schwarenbach inn before him, but had actually located there a story practically identical with the one which he himself had just devised.—Travel and Exploration.

The Gold Dust Was There.

North America has counted as a gold producing continent only since the late forties. But it might well have done so for about 200 years. According to the London Chronicle, in the voyage round the world which began in 1719 the privateer Captain Shelvocke found in certain California valleys "a rich black mold which, as you turn it fresh up to the sun, appears as if intermingled with gold dust. Though we were a little prejudiced," he adds, "against the thought that it could be possible that this metal should be so promiscuously and universally mingled with common earth, yet we endeavored to cleanse and wash the earth from some of it, and the more we did the more it appeared like gold. In order to be further satisfied I brought away some of it, which we lost in our confusion in China."

Resent the Calumy

The unjust and unwarranted attacks upon the personal character and business integrity of John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Govenor, should arouse the resentment and action of all his friends in this community. That they are untrue, unfounded and unwarranted, every one who knows Mr. Tener is fully aware, and that they are circulated for the express purpose of attempting to defeat him by foul means when fair means have failed, is also well known by Mr. Tener's personal friends and acquaintances. As John D. Berryman, a prominent Charleroi Democrat, said at the meeting of the Charleroi Business Men's Association last night, "the attacks on one of our citizens, are shameful, when we all know him to be a good and true man.

These attacks can be resented at the polls by Mr. Tener's friends. His detractors are asserting that he cannot carry his home town, and this is encouraging many covert attacks on the part of those who dare not come out in the open. Certain individuals are going up and down the river repeating scurrilous scandals, who are afraid to make the charges openly where they will not be believed. For this reason Mr. Tener's friends should make a united effort to give him a splendid indorsement at the polls. By uniting and getting the vote out his neighbors and friends can resent the foul calumnies which are being circulated without foundation or reason.

Tener and the Wage Earner

"Of this record we are justly proud, and we point to it in the past as a guarantee of our intentions in the future. The growth of the development of our industries has brought with it new economic problems, new dangers and altogether complex conditions that demand most serious consideration and treatment by the law making and law administering power of our Commonwealth."

Mr. Tener then outlined some of the recommendations he will submit to the Legislature for the enactment of further legislation in the interest of laboring men and women. He referred especially to measures for the protection of the life and health of those who toil in the mines and factories, and emphasized the importance of the employers' liability law, whose operation, he said, should be broadened in justice to the wage earner.

It will be to the interest of every working man in Pennsylvania to vote the Republican ticket this year. A better friend of labor than John K. Tener has never been presented to the people as a candidate for Governor. His record as a citizen and as a public man in every sense confirms this statement. The pledge he made to wage earners to support their cause to the measure of his ability and influence was not a campaign platitude. He meant every word he uttered. With John K. Tener as Governor labor will be assured of a "square deal" at Harrisburg.

Then and Now

Former Congressman E. F. Acheson's paper, the Washington Observer, states that one of the idiocies of the campaign is the alarm among the wool growers of Washington county that their interests will be jeopardized by the election of a Congressman hostile to the tariff schedules that govern the price of this product. The Observer arraigns the Mail for trying to throw a scare into the farmers, and takes a fling at what it terms the "obnoxious schedule K of the Payne tariff bill," notwithstanding Mr. Acheson, when he was in Congress, voted for this same schedule in the Dingley bill, which is practically retained in the Payne bill at the urgent solicitation of all the wool grower in the country, Washington county included, which sent a delegation to the National capital to protest against the charge in this schedule.

The Observer says the farmers will pay no attention to the attacks on their interests by the Keystone party, because Mr. Gibbony, the Keystone candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has told them that this campaign is on State issues. He has told them that shamful conditions exist in Philadelphia and that the farmers should jeopardizing their own interests and vote his way because the people of Philadelphia do not have enough interest to regulate their own municipal affairs. When it has been authoritatively stated that at least one hundred thousand reputable citizens of Philadelphia failed to register because of their political indifference, it is pretty good evidence that Mr. Gibbony's lurid tales of that city are somewhat overdrawn. Anyhow what has the rest of the State got to do with it? Only the people of Philadelphia can regulate their own affairs, and that is no reason why the Washington county wool growers should vote to jeopardize their interests.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

There was a young man from Chicago,
Who wanted to see a buzz saw go;
He shouted "By gum!
It wasn't much fun
To see the whole of my paw go!"

State Game Commissioner Joseph Kalbfus says the game season opened too early. That isn't the opinion of some fellows, who think the season should last from January 1 to January 1.

It seems the North American's attack is only one of its chronic performances upon candidates in general.

At the last report where was President Taft? He couldn't surely have been in Washington.

Marguerita Silva says she can't dress in less than ninety minutes. Some Charleroi women waste that much time putting on their hats.

But this red flannel underwear scratches like sin.

A new aspirant to the Spanish throne has appeared. Like all the rest of the fellows he's "loony."

Cold weather? So says the weather man.

A Joke on the [illegible]

Sir Ernest Cassel was [illegible] with King Edward VII. As a matter of fact there was a curious and striking resemblance between [illegible] view of the late King and that of Sir Ernest. It was so pronounced that the great financier was known among his friends as "Windsor Castle."

There is a good story and a true one told in connection with this. It happened at a garden party at Windsor castle. A well known peer of the realm was strolling about when, as he thought, he spotted Sir Ernest sitting in a chair. Going toward him on tiptoe, he gave him a resounding smack on the shoulder.

"Hello, old Windsor Castle!" he cried. "How are you?"

The occupant of the chair, startled, turned around. It was King Edward, who, unaware of Sir Ernest's nickname, was for a time exceedingly vexed at this undue liberty. However, when the circumstances were explained to him he enjoyed the joke hugely.—London M. A. P.

country, which was an alphabetical curiosity. He also dwelt upon the necessity of more small industries for Charleroi, and told some interesting personal anecdotes. He then led in singing the "Stein Song" in which the company joined.

C. H. Truxal of Belle Vernon told how the Civic League had secured a new railroad station by sending a committee direct to the road officials instead of knocking through the newspapers. Belle Vernon, he said, had over 250 men employed in the Monessen mills and this is one of the reasons for the good roads movement between the two towns.

Dr. H.J. Repman spoke of changing conditions which are taking people away from the vicinity of Charleroi, and the necessity of counteracting these movements. E. C. Niver spoke on the necessity of getting information and data concerning the town, in order that future action for its advancement might be carried on more intelligently. W. D. Pollock said it was the duty of all to try to stop the exodus of Charleroi people to the west and other places, and to provide so far as possible more available houses for the town. Wm. Kirk, who was a leading spirit in the old Merchants Association, which is now merged into the Business Men's Association, spoke optimistically of what is in the future and was hopeful of increased results.

C. R Perigren, manager of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, who is a recent comer to the town, spoke highly of conditions and the future. Being of Welsh extraction himself, he poked some fun at Prof. Daniel by relating a legend as to how the Welsh language originated. He said that at the confusion of tongues in the construction of the Tower of Babel, one of the workmen was looking up with his mouth open, when some one above dropped some mortar into the yawning cavity. The man below gave a couple of snorts, like a goose with a straw in its throat, and this was the origin of the Welsh tongue.

To prove this story Prof. Daniel recited some Welsh poetry, which was a correct imitation of a hare-lipped man "speaking a piece."

N. Greenberg said that few towns were so strongly intrenched in religious, social and fraternal life. He thought the town was not so lively as used to be and advocated more vigor to make it so. J. D. Berryman said he would have to differ with Mr Greenberg, and believed more business was done here than ever before, but because we all are carrying heavier burdens than atthe start the impression has gained ground that we are not progressing He said such impressions often gained currency without foundation and work harm

"As an example," he said, "one of our best citizens is being unjustly maligned over all the State when we at home here know him to be a good and true man."

D. H. Johnson, local manager of the West Penn Electric company, expressed himself as willing to help boost in every possible manner, and W S. James, superintendent of the Macbeth-Evans factory, told of the merits of the building and loan association plan for working people to get their own homes.

Charles O. Frye, who was census supervisor of this district, and consequently on the inside as to Charleroi's population, said he knew something he would like to tell but couldn't Nevertheless, Charleroi and Washington county will have reason to feel proud when the results are made public. He advocated vigorous measures in putting vacant lots on the market, and the employment of a permanent secretary to boom Charleroi's interests. He also stated that there were still some good factory sites in Charleroi.

After a few complimentary remarks by E. W. Hastings, assistant secretary and treasurer of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company, Toastmaster Clark thanked the company for the most profitable session, and the meeting adjourned by singing "America."

Beggars and Bandages.

It was a case in which first aid to the injured was imperative, but no one present knew how to extend the aid. Presently a bandaged beggar who had been sitting on the curb cast off his pretense of helplessness. Out of linen strips provided by the women in the crowd he fashioned bandages and applied them skillfully.

"Where did you acquire all that skill in nursing?" a bystander asked.

"It is one of the first things the men of our profession learn," was the candid response. "Half our success depends upon arrangement of bandages that makes us look as if we had been half killed. No doctor can be depended on to fix us up, so we have to do our own bandaging. Every successful man in the business practices on himself and the other fellows until he can turn out a first class job."

ROAR OF BIG GUNS.

The Effect Upon the Nerves and the Sense of Hearing.

One of the penalties attendant on firing off big guns is deafness. So sure is this penalty to be exacted that, it is asserted, no man can go through a long series of gunnery practice without having his hearing affected. A stranger on deck who hears a big gun speak for the first time will not soon forget the stunning report.

One gun is enough to startle a stranger, but the shattering effect of the whole armament when in action together can hardly be conceived. The strain upon nerves and senses when the rending concussion takes place is terrible.

There is not a great difference between the effect of the big guns and that of the smaller pieces, strange as it may seem. If the visitor places himself beside one of the smaller guns and then listens to the roar of the big one, the sound will not appear much louder than that of the gun by his side. The extra distance to the muzzle of the big piece discounts the sound. The only apparent difference between the two will be that the smaller piece has a sharper, higher pitched tone, and that the big guns speak with a more bellowing roar.

If one watches the firing of the gun the crash has not such a startling effect as when it comes unexpectedly. Loud as it is, nature has prepared the watcher to resist the shock which he knows is impending.—Exchange.

ROMAN ARENAS.

They Were Not Mere Rings as Those of the Modern Circus.

The arenas of ancient Rome were not, as some people suppose, mere rings or ovals, such as may be seen in the modern circus. They were broken up and varied in character according to the nature of the fighting to be done or to the caprices of those in authority.

On one occasion an arena might resemble the Numidian desert, on another the garden of Hesperides, thick set with groves of trees and rising mounds, while again it pictured the great rocks and caves of Thrace.

With these surroundings the combatants advanced, retreated, encircled their adversaries or kept wild beasts at bay as occasion offered or as their courage or fear suggested. Men combated not only with the more common brutes, but with such monsters as elephants, rhinoceroses, hippopotamuses and crocodiles.

On other occasions flocks of game, such as deer and war ostriches, were abandoned to the multitude, and in some cases the arenas could be turned into lakes, filled with monsters of the deep, and upon the surface of which naval engagements took place.—London Saturday Review.

Hints to Swimmers.

An expert swimmer is authority for the assertion that a vast majority of the drowning casualties which are attributed to cramps are in all probability the result of cardiac exhaustion. Nearly all experienced swimmers, he says, know that cramps when in the water are not comparatively infrequent occurrences. It is certainly in the calf of the leg that the swimmer by lying quietly upon his back without undue alarm and stretching out the leg may overcome this sometimes painful involuntary muscular contraction. The exertion of swimming, however, is fully equal to the exertion of rowing, with the additional tax upon the system of a gradual lowering of the bodily temperature. It is one thing to know how to swim and quite another to be in a physical condition to do the swimming.—London Globe.

The Most Important Thing.

Commander Peary, at one of the numerous Washington dinners following his triumphant return from the pole, got the better of a senator in a war of wits.

"What is the good of your discovery?" the senator said. "I'll wager that you didn't find a single important thing at the north pole."

"Oh, yes, I did," said the explorer. "I found one very, very important thing."

"Humph! What was that?" the senator grunted.

"The way back home again," was the reply.

Hate All Around.

The famous English chief justice Holt and his wife hated each other to the limit, and when she fell dangerously ill he was so delighted that he became disgracefully tipsy. But his wife was equal to the emergency and sent for the great Dr. Radcliffe, who hated Holt, and therefore out of spite when the case was presented to him came with great promptness and saved her life.—Westminster Gazette.

Old Enough to Notice.

"Are your papa and mamma at home?" asked the caller.

"No," replied little Marguerite. "One of them may be here, but they never are both at home at the same time."

Told Him.

"What's that boy yelling at?" asked the farmer of his son.

"Why," chuckled the boy, "he's just yelling at the top of his voice."

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brookfield, Mo.—"Two years ago I was unable to do any kind of work and only weighed 118 pounds. My trouble dates back to the time the women may expect nature to bring on the Change of Life. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel much better, and I have continued its use. I am very grateful to you for the good health I am now enjoying."—Mrs. SARAH LOUSIGNONT, 414 S. Livingston Street, Brookfield, Mo.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

THE PEOPLE'S

Honest Values = Liberal Credit

We ask you and every intelligent man and woman not to judge the People's People's Store by the kind of merchandise offered at other so-called credit stores, but by the excellent values and the dignified credit you receive here.

See These Special Garments

The diagonal cloth all lined long coats we are now selling at $15.98 has created a sensation in the cloak trade. Other stores are asking $3 to $5 more for garments made much inferior, and of cheaper fabrics.

Why Not Get the Best?

The diagonal cloth of which our garments are made is the latest fad in fabrics. It looks much better than plain, common serge, and will wear better than broadcloth. Our guarantee is back of every garment to be all wool and strictly pure worsted, and it cannot be duplicated in any other store at our price---cash or credit.

MORE INDUSTRIES FOR CHARLEROI THE KEYNOTE OF TALKS BY BUSINESS MEN

PLANS ADVANCED AT SMOKER FOR FURTHERING INTERESTS OF TOWN

Promising Outlook for Good Business Year---Good Opportunities for Securing Number of Concerns to Locate Here

More and diversified industries for Charleroi, the encouragement and fostering of small concerns, and a general boosting policy all along the line was the keynote of a splendid and enthusiastic meeting of the Charleroi Business Men's Association at the smoker and lunch given at the association rooms in the Kirk and Clark building last night. About fifty were present, and some interesting and inspiring talks were made as to what Charleroi needs, can and should do, and what is before the town in the way of material advancement and well being.

In the absence of President John H Bowers, who was suffering with an ulcerated jaw, W. C. Clark presided over the meeting, after it had been called to order by Vice President John B. Schafer The company repaired to the large hall where tables were spread with an appetizing lunch, prepared under direction of the vice president, who is an expert, when it comes to cattering to a company of his fellows After the lunch, Toastmaster Clark weclomed the new members into the association These were about twenty in number, and Mr. Clarke stated that now with new blood in the association he looked forward to greater achievements. In the name of the association he welcomed the new members and visitors Among the latter were E. L Sears, president, F. H Steen, corresponding secretary, and C. H Truxal of the Belle Vernon Civic League. Some letter of regret were read from visitors who were invited, but were not able to attend

H J. Booth, superintendent of the Imperial Glass company, who was scheduled on the program for a talk on "The Outlook," was the first to respond He stated that he was an optimist of the first water, but there were nevertheless some clouds on the horizon of material progress. One of these was the insatiable American tendency to regulate other people's business, both by interference in various ways and by legislation. He cited his experience with Dr. Wiley of the United States Pure Food Commission, before whom he appeared the capacity of an expert in the blowing of bottles Dr. Wiley, he said would admit of no variations due to the law of nature or mechanics, but insisted that the letter of the law must be carried out regardless. Mr. Booth read some letters in reply to inquiries he had made regarding the outlook of industries in which Charleroi is interested. A letter from the Pittsburg Plate Glass company officials stated that while the past year had been prosperous, the outlook for 1911 was somewhat disturbed and unpromising, owing largely to unsettled political conditions, which caused a hesitancy on the part of many industries to branch out. A prominent coal operator of the valley wrote that the past season had been an exceedingly good one in mining circles in the valley, owing to the big strikes elsewhere, which kept this section busy. Now that the lake trade is about to close, the outlook is not so encouraging for the winter, and more or less idleness may be expected among the various mines of the district, as there is a large surplus of coal on hand. W. Evans of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company wrote that the outlook was particularly favorable to their line of industry, and that the company contemplates extensive improvements and enlargement of their Charleroi plant. The Imperial Glass company, Mr Booth's own company, he said, had more orders on its books than it had this time last year, and he expected the plant would run every day and night until the Fourth of next July.

George S. Might, who has recently returned from a trip to the Southwest, told of a bull fight he had witnessed at Juarez, Mexico, which was held in honor of President Diaz and his suite Mr. Might said he was introduced to the president, but not knowing the ethics of bull fighting was at a loss at first whether to root for the bull or the matador. Finally he discovered that the sympathy of the crowd seemed to be with the matador and he took occasion not to get in wrong. He passed for inspection one of the barbs with which the bandilleros torture the bull before the matador appears. The fight was a success, he said, as four bulls and two horses were killed. Mr Might spoke of the remarkable hustling spirit of the west where all pulled together, and advised the same methods for Charleroi.

J. K. Johnston, superintendent of the Charleroi Coal Works, was on the program for a talk on "Reminiscences," but he said he preferred to leave the past behind and dip into the future He said that many failed to appreciate the possibilities and magnitude of the industrial zone of the Monongahela valley Draw a circle of fifteen miles with Carleroi the centre, he said, and you have a territory that produces more coal than the entire Empire of Russia. Within this circle $10,000,000 is paid out annually in wages. Mr. Johnston spoke of the necessity of more and diversified industries for Charleroi, something that would utilize unproductive capital in the town From personal investigation he finds that there are 684 vacant lots still in Charleroi, out of the 2,250 of the original plan. These he said represent an idle capital approximating $400,000. This would make room for 500 more families, and Mr. Johnston advocated the investment of money to attain the desired ends in advancing the interests of the town.

F. H. Steen, corresponding secretary of the Belle Vernon Civic League, told what that organization has accomplished. It has secured a free bridge and a number of miles of good roads. It is now acting in conjunction with Monessen for more roads that will unite the two towns with other populous centers. They expect to land five miles of brick and macadamized roads. Mr. Steen advocated an alliance of the three towns for a good roads crusade, and his organization has offered its service to any organization within a radius of ten miles for that purpose. Prof. I. T. Daniel, musical director of the public schools, who is a Welshman, created considerable amusement by interpretating the unpronounceable name of a small town in his native

All But Twenty Seats Reserved for Season's Attractions

For the first time in years Charleroi will have a paying entertainment course this year. Last night was the time for the reservation of seats at Piper's pharmacy for the Citizen's Entertainment course, and all but 20 seats in the rear of the house were taken for the entire season. This means that $510 in round numbers has been taken in from the sale of seats. The course costs $400 and the expenses are estimated at $70, partly paid for through other means than the seat sale. The course this year, furnished by the Cort Lyceum Bureau of Cleveland, Ohio, is considered an exceptionally good one

AFTER MORE TERRITORY

Monessen To Take In McMahon and Other Boroughs

Monessen proposes by the process of consolidation to take in McMahon borough shortly and by annexation secure other contiguous territory. McMahon borough council stated the process of consolidation by passing an ordinance endorsing the project, and Monessen council has passed a similar resolution What remains to be done now is for the councils of the two boroughs to meet and establish the ward lines, after which it will be submitted after a thirty days' time limit, to the voters for consideration. Inasmuch as the sentiment is in favor of consolidation the proposition will without doubt be passed.

By the process of annexation Monessen proposes to secure Wireton, East Monessen and Dutchtown. To do this requires the signatures on a petition of a sufficient number of citizens previous to an election. McMahon borough has an estimated population of 1,200, Wireton 800, East Monessen 200 and Dutchtown 200.

MAY ISSUE $100,000 IN BONDS

Monessen Borough Planning to Make Improvements

ORDINANCE AUTHORIZED

Monessen council has instructed Borough Solicitor A M. Waynt to draw up an ordinance authorizing a vote on a bond issue of $100,000 to be used for improvements in that town within the next year or so. The proposed bond issue it is believed will arouse some heavy opposition.

It is proposed to use the money in street work in various parts of the town and for in talling new sewers. Part of it will also be used to pay off some of the floating indebtedness. The issuing of $100,000 in bonds would about bring Monessen up to its limit. At the time according to the auditors report for the year ending March 1, 1910, the total municipal indebtedness was $251,286.73. The valuation is $5,500,000. A borough is allowed to issue seven per cent of its valuation in bonds by the State laws, and this would admit of Monessen having a total indebtedness of $385,000. With an issue of $100,000 there would only be left $38,714 on which to go and come.

In drawing up the ordinance the borough solicitor will be aided by the finance committee of council, and it is hoped to have the matter in readiness shortly to present to the people

TWO BUILDINGS ARE DESTROYED

Homes of Miners at Fairhope Are Burned to The Ground

By a fire which originated from a spark in some greasy miners' clothing, two company houses were burned to the ground at Fairhope, near Fayette City last night, entailing a loss of probably $4,000 The fire started about 9 o'clock in a house occupied by James Hunter. Miners rooming there were in the habit of throwing their mine clothes in a corner when they removed them, and it is supposed that a spark from a match thrown by a child into the heap started the blaze. When discovered the fire had gained great headway and it was impossible to do anything to save the building. An adjoining house occupied by Albert Fields took fire and it was impossible to save it. Many people went from Fayette City to tender aid, but through lack of water or fire fighting apparatus were unable to do much.

BIG AMOUNT IS CLAIMED

Vesta Miner Asks $25,000 Damages for Injuries

ALLEGES POOR CONDITIONS

John Mingak from up the river has filed a statement of claim in a suit against the Vesta Coal company. He seeks $25,000 damages for personal injuries sustained March 17, 1990. On that date Mingak was injured by a fall of coal and slate. His foot was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated at the ankle and his leg was broken above the knee, so that he was permanently injured. The accident occurred in a portion of the mine known as a "cut through." Mr. Mingak avers that notwithstanding the fact that this "cut through" was 30 feet long, nine feet wide and six feet high, it contained no post, or supports of any kind to keep the roof, and parts thereof from falling; also that he was furnished with no equipment or appliance of any kind to carry off and care for the water that was dripping from the roof of this "cut through" Negligence on the part of the company by its employes is alleged. T. H. W Fergus represents the plaintiff. The plaintiff says that he was in no wise guilty of contributory negligence.

DETECTIVES AFTER WOMAN IN BLACK?

Monongahela has a mystery Recently a "woman in black" appeared and the latest now is that she isn't a woman but a man and wanted for murder in New York. The alleged murderer is claimed to be somewhat demented and has appeared all over the country in the guise of the woman in black This fact is vouched for by a man, who is an entire stranger found roaming the hills of Monongahela recently. When questioned he whispered he was a real sure 'nuf detective, and to prove it exhibited a disguise which would make Old Sleuth green with envy. At last reports he nor the woman had been seen.

M. & W. to Construct Line to Ten Mile

THROUGH TO THE RIVER

Plans Formulated for Continuing Tracks to Connect With P. R. R.

To gain admittance into new coal fields about to be opened up in the Marianna and Zollarsville region, the Monongahela and Washington railroad company will shortly begin work on the construction on a new extension from their present terminus at Marianna to Ten Mile Creek, within four miles of the Monongahela river Surveys have been made and rights of way secured, and it is only a matter of a short time until the actual work will begin.

The railroad has been guaranteed sufficient tonnage by a number of coal men about to open up new mines, should they construct such a road. Eventually the road will be extended to the river, and then nearly all the coal will pass over the Monongahela lines of the Pennsylvania railroad from Marianna and vicinity via Charleroi north. This will be done to secure the advantage of a better grade.

Yesterday officials were loking over the route and considering the feasibility of constructing the line to the river at once completing the extension from Ten Mile.

WILL ENTERTAIN GREAT COMMANDER

Charleroi Maccabees Plan to Receive Noted Personage of Order

Lady Maccabees are issuing invitations for a social affair to be given Thursday evening, October 27, at their meeting place in P. H. C. hall at 8 o'clock, sharp when the guests will be afforded the pleasurable opportunity of meeting Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, great commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World. Cards of Mrs. Brown accompany the invitations, which must be presented at the door. The Ladies of the Charleroi Hive will give a public drill, and will also serve refreshments. Everything is free and all those who are fortunate enough to receive invitations will miss a treat if they don't respond to meet Mrs. Brown, and spend an evening with her. The fact that Miss Julia Sullivan is the chairman of the entertainment committee speaks well for the program.

ATTACK ON TENER WAS BOOMERANG

Reputable Editors Repudiate Journalistic Mendacity.

NOT A SINGLE DIRECT CHARGE

Candidate For Governor Helped Rather Than Injured by the Work of the Mud Slingers.

Reputable newspapers throughout Pennsylvania are resenting and condemning the disgraceful journalistic attacks that have been made on John K. Tener, the Republican nominee for governor.

Misrepresentations of a scandalous character have been made in the attempt to ruin the reputation of Mr. Tener, but investigations into the facts of the case have shown that Mr. Tener has acted in a commendably honorable and upright manner in every transaction that has been referred to and through which his political enemies have sought to place him in a false light before the people.

The efforts of a sensational newspaper to have it appear that Mr. Tener, through his connection with the Public Utilities Corporation, has placed himself in a position to forfeit the support of his fellow citizens as a candidate for governor, have failed signally.

Not a solitary fact has been submitted showing that Mr. Tener should be criticised for any act in relation to this company. While it is admitted that up to date the enterprise has not been profitable, reputable business men who are interested in the corporation are convinced that it will ultimately be successful.

Mr. Tener met the attack upon him with a prompt and sweeping disavowal of any wrongdoing.

"It is a palpable attempt to besmirch my character," said he, "and to question my integrity, without the slightest justification and without a scintilla of fact to base an intimation of wrongdoing upon my part.

"The article," he declared, "is an effort to promote the selfish and pecuniary interests of a mercenary and degenerate publication. There is absolutely nothing to conceal. I became connected with the company through W. L. Christman, a reputable attorney in Philadelphia. When I found I could not give the time to the company I severed my connection with it absolutely, never having accepted any of its stock. My relations with the company were entirely straightforward and honorable in every respect."

Mr. Christman, to whom Mr. Tener referred, is one of the leading members of the Philadelphia bar and a man of the highest reputation in the community. He is now president of the company, which was formed, among other things, to construct a railroad on the coast of Oregon to open up a big lumber field. Mr. Tener was voted $50,000 worth of stock, but declined to accept it. He was connected with the company for but two months, when he resigned.

Men of Affairs Interested.

A number of well known business men are on the board of directors of the company, including Simeon Merrell, president of the Yost Manufacturing company, of Meadville, Pa.; William B. Margerum, a merchant in the Reading Terminal market, Philadelphia; General Russell Thayer, who is also a director in the Philadelphia and Suburban Elevated Railroad company; Colonel William Bender Wilson, formerly of the Pennsylvania railroad, and for whom the Pennsylvania legislature voted a medal of honor for distinguished services during the Civil War; W. W. Pinkerton, of the Pinkerton Construction company; Frederick Schoff, a manufacturer, who has been prominent in many civic movements in Philadelphia, and Thomas Bromley, Jr., who is a member of the Committee of Seventy, and has been active in a number of reform movements in the Quaker City. General Thayer was among the first to declare that Mr. Tener's connection with the company was entirely honorable. He predicts the ultimate success of the enterprise.

Throughout the several publications care has been exercised to avoid directly charging Mr. Tener with any specific act of wrongdoing, but by inuendo and by linking him with promoters who were identified with the unsuccessful companies taken over by the Public Utilities Corporation, an effort is made to discredit Mr. Tener.

In commenting upon the attack on Mr. Tener the editor of the Pittsburg Gazette-Times, among other things, says:

"Mr. Tener says his relations with the company were 'straightforward and honorable in every way.' As far as his friends are concerned his repudiation of the slander was scarcely necessary; they know he is an honest man, and they do not question his integrity. But it is just as well that he should denounce the attempt to besmirch his character, as he has done for the information of the people of the state, before whom he is appearing as the Republican nominee for governor.

"As for this bit of sensationalism which has been introduced into the campaign, it is a disgrace to journalism. It is essentially a low-grade political trick, partly intended to attain the meanest of partisan ends and partly to achieve a feat of commercialism of the most despicable character."

Black Hand Methods.

In commenting upon the fact that the newspaper which printed the sensational story solicited orders for the sale of the paper two days in advance of its publication from politicians to have it distributed as a campaign document, the Gazette-Times says: "Instead of publishing its alleged revelations in the usual course of business as a purveyor of news and thus conveying to the public such information as it deemed proper without regard to politics, it served a sort of Black Hand blackmailers' notice upon Senator Penrose that unless he withdraw Mr. Tener within 48 hours it would publish certain exposures to prove the latter's unfitness for the governorship. Aside from the fact that Senator Penrose has neither the power nor the authority to withdraw Mr. Tener and that the miserable creatures making this threat knew Mr. Penrose would do nothing of the sort, the effect of this preliminary publication was to subject Mr. Tener to grave suspicions without redress or the opportunity to defend himself for two whole days during a critical stage of the state canvass. Here was the real infamy of this wretched sensationalism [illegible] is hardly less shameful in construction.

"The whole affair, however, turns out to be a 'flash in the pan.' There is nothing to show either culpability or wrongdoing, unfitness or dishonesty on Mr. Tener's part."

Upon every hand citizens are denouncing the authors of the attack and the fact has been demonstrated that the unwarranted criticisms have helped rather than hurt Mr. Tener in his canvass for the governorship.

Bitterly resenting the work of the journalistic mud-slingers, Republicans everywhere are evincing a keen interest in the campaign and are determined to emphasize their contempt for the slanderers by rolling up a great vote for Mr. Tener and the full Republican ticket on election day.

From the methods now being resorted to by the Keystone Party managers almost anything may be anticipated in the way of despicable campaigning in the closing days of the canvass. The masked man with stiletto is abroad and Mr. Tener has been picked as the victim. Every conceivable form of malice and venom will be employed in the desperate game to elect Berry governor.

These men recognize the strength of Mr. Tener with the people and they are driven to desperation and thuggery in their mad attempts to stem the tide of popular sentiment that is sweeping Mr. Tener on to victory.

Accuses Both His Rivals, But Cannot Deny That He Made Compacts With Saloon Men.

William H. Berry, the Keystone Party nominee for governor, has up to date failed to reply to the charge that he made a deal with liquor men and representatives of liquor interests both prior to and at the Allentown convention, to win the support of saloonkeepers and others affiliated with the liquor traffic in his effort to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Although it is some time since Mayor Liebel, of Erie, formally charged Mr. Berry with holding a conference with "Jim" Mulvihill, the liquor men's state representatives, at Allentown, with a view to getting the votes of certain delegates in the Democratic convention, Mr. Berry has made no specific denial.

The charge is now made that during the gathering of Democrats at Harrisburg, when the date for the state convention was being determined upon, Mr. Berry met representatives of the Lackawanna county Democracy, who are largely interested in the whisky and brewery business, and gave them such assurances that he was promised the votes of the delegates to the Democratic state convention.

When the Lackawanna delegation reached Allentown they wanted a direct interview with Mr. Berry, and they were closeted with him in a room on the Hotel Allen for some time. Then and there Berry assured them that if he was elected governor he would do nothing to further the cause of local option and they could depend upon him to be absolutely neutral.

So satisfactory were the guarantees given them by Mr. Berry that every man in the delegation when the roll was called in the Democratic convention voted for William H. Berry.

Liquor Men For Berry.

In this delegation there were [illegible] saloonkeepers and one collector for a brewery. There were a number of other liquor men in various delegations in the Democratic convention who voted for Mr. Berry upon assurances received from him.

And yet Mr. Berry in his nightly speeches talks about liquor men having dominated the conventions which nominated both his competitors and would have it appear that he is the implacable foe of the liquor interests. He is running upon a local option platform adopted by the Keystone Party state convention, yet he is under pledge to the liquor men of Lackawanna county and elsewhere to do nothing, in the event of his selection, to promote the cause of local option.

Mr. Berry has been accused of hypocrisy by men who have known him for years and who have watched his vacillating course in politics, and every day seems to bring forth fresh evidence to bear out their allegations.

Preaching politics in churches on Sunday, and on weekdays making deals with representatives of the liquor traffic, seems to come quite natural to Mr. Berry.

NEIGHBORS SHOW FAITH IN TENER

Business Men of His Home Town of Charleroi Indorse Him

HIS TOUR OF TRIUMPH

Republican Nominee For Gubernatorial Honors Greeted Everywhere by Immense Audiences.

A dispatch from Charleroi, the home town of John K. Tener, tells of the quick action of the neighbors of the Republican nominee for governor, following the journalistic attacks made upon him, in expressing their absolute faith and confidence in him and their interest in his candidacy.

For twenty years John Tener has been doing business in his community, and never in all that time has he been accused of doing any person out of a penny. He is connected with a number of business ventures—in fact, with everything that goes to make up the industrial life of that section. Naturally there are some who do not agree with everything he does, but no one doubts that he is open and above board in all his actions and thoroughly honest. The manner in which he has met his accusers is the action of an honest man. "I have nothing to conceal; I court investigation of my every action, private or political," he says.

Dozens of persons in Charleroi and the surrounding towns who, before the publication of this malicious yarn, were either considering the voting of some other ticket or at least lukewarm in the matter, have expressed themselves in no uncertain manner since it came out. Recognizing it for what it is, a political canard of the first water, they are now unqualifiedly for Tener and the whole Republican ticket. They have no use for "reformers" who stoop to such despicable measures.

Last week was held the regular monthly meeting of the Charleroi Business Men's association, of which Mr. Tener is a member.

This organization is composed of all of Charleroi's progressive, hustling merchants, manufacturers and business men generally. Its president is a man formerly lined up with the anti-Tener faction in Washington county. Much of the hustling in behalf of Mr. Tener before the State convention was done by the association. And now it comes out unequivocally for him in a set of resolutions drafted by a committee composed of John B. Schaffer, John H. Bowers and William Kirk.

Business Men Speak Out.

Following are the resolutions, adopted unanimously:

"Resolved, That we, the members of the Charleroi Business Men's association, knowing our fellow member, Hon. John K. Tener, to be a man of good, sound judgment, unquestionable integrity and rare business qualifications, and one who has done much for the interest of Charleroi, and believing that a business administration has proven to be the best for the state of Pennsylvania, and feeling assured that Hon. John K. Tener is thoroughly competent to fill the high office of governor and will give the people a good, clean administration, and uphold with honor the sacred duties of this position, we heartily endorse his candidacy, and wish him every success on Nov. 8.

"J. H. BOWERS, President.
"M. ADAMS, Secretary."

State Treasurer C. Fred Wright, who has been making the tour of the state with Mr. Tener, is enthusiastic over the success of the trip and says the meetings are much larger than even those of the Stuart gubernatorial campaign four years ago.

"Mr. Tener is making a splendid impression," said Mr. Wright, "and is winning votes for the Republican ticket wherever he goes. There can be no question about his popularity in all of the counties of his home territory, even beyond the confines of his congressional district.

"Mr. Tener stands well with his neighbors and those who know him best throughout western Pennsylvania. At every place we stopped the leading and most representative citizens, men of affairs and men who are the leaders in their respective communities, were on hand to greet Mr. Tener and to evince an interest in his campaign.

"If other parts of the state give as big a vote relatively as Mr. Tener will get in western Pennsylvania he will be elected by a tremendous majority."

Photoplay Hereafter

Hereafter, instead of being known as "moving pictures" "life motion pictures," or "electric theatre" exhibitions, this form of entertainment will be known as the "photoplay." This title was adopted as the winning name in a contest conducted by the Essanay Film Manufacturing company of Chicgo. Manager R. L. Barnhart of the Palace Theatre will adopt the title, and it is expected that managers generally throughout the country will do the same.

The Origin of Pyrography.

About a century ago an artist named Cranch was standing one day in front of a fire in his home at Axminster Over the fireplace was an oaken mantelpiece, and it occurred to Cranch that this expanse of wood might be improved by a little ornamentation He picked up the poker, heated it red hot and began to sketch in a bold design The result pleased him so much that he elaborated his work and began to attempt other fire pictures on panels of wood These met with a ready sale, and Cranch soon gave all his time to his new art This was the beginning of what is now known as pyrography

Warm Floors and Healthy Children Make Happy Homes

There is no better way for you to avoid worry and expense than by insuring your children's health.

Warm floors in the home, which is the children's play house in winter, are assured when using Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater.

The steel base and body construction allows the heat to be radiated to the floor keeping it warm during the coldest weather.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

The Cleanest—Easiest to Care For

Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal, Crushed Coke, Wood and Cobs.

Users of coal must remember that the ordinary heater is a big care to operate. That its smoke and ashes entail dusting, curtain washing and carpet sweeping. Think then of the ease of operation and the cleanliness of Cole's Hot Blast.

Cole's Hot Blast has a guaranteed smoke-proof feed door—open the feed door and the current of air draws the smoke directly across the top of stove to the stove pipe—away from the opening. Contrast this simple, cleanly feed with the side door in an ordinary heater. The side door used on other stoves permits escape of dirty smoke, unpleasant gas and accumulated soot drops from it. If you overfill a side door stove, coal falls to the floor. And note this, you cannot make a side door heater air-tight—an everlasting advantage in favor of Cole's Hot Blast which is air-tight and guaranteed to remain so always.

No fires to build—the fire is never out in this remarkable heater from fall until taken down in the spring.

Better select one today—surely it is the heater you need—

SEASON STARTS TOO EARLY SAYS JOSEPH KALBFUS

"The present season for quail, wild turkeys, squirrel and pheasants comes early," Dr Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission is quoted as having said: "The weather we are having this fall proves it. The game is really not good until cold weather set in and we are now having almost summer heat and yet the quail season is opened."

Dr. Kalbfus said that the present weather conditions would undoubtedly result in a sentiment in favor of a change in the game laws to permit of the season being made later in the year. This has been agitated for some time and suggestions are made that November be made the month instead of part of October.

The quail season opened Saturday and from all reports received at the office of the commission there is an abundance of quail in the western portions of the State and a fair amount in almost every county favorable for existance of the game bird.

HEED THE WARNING!

Backache is the Signal That Kidney Diseases are Nigh

Who doesn't dread the advanced stage of kidney troubles—Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy and gravel.

But today throughout America, there are tens of thousands suffering the torments of hopeless agony, just because they failed to heed the first signals the certain warning of future misery—backache.

Backache means that your kidneys are weak; they may have become inflamed from cold or injury, but in all probability they are stuffed up, clogged with impurities from the blood, for you know of course, that the blood passes through the kidneys every few minutes, and that the kidneys strain the blood of its impurities, which pass out through the urine.

Stop kidney diseases at the start, that's the easiest way, and Thompson's Barosma is the surest remedy. W. F. Hennings sells it and is willing to guarantee it to stop backache, sideache and sharp shooting pains and to cure Bright's disease, and end all kidney, liver and bladder trouble or money back.

It is a great maker of pure blood, and a builder of flesh, because it promptly cleans the kidneys, and puts them in such perfect condition that the impurities are thoroughly strained from the blood as it passes through and are promptly eliminated with the urine. Thompson's Barosma is only 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle

ROAD SHOWS ARE COMING TO COYLE

Manager John Penman, who has leased the Coyle Theatre, has discontinued vaudeville and at the urgent request of many of the patrons of the house will put on an occasional road show The first of these will be given next Tuesday evening, October 25, when Neil Twomey's dramatization of Augusta J. Evans' celebrated novel, "St. Elmo." will be present. Since its first appearance about fifty years ago St Elmo has been by far one of the most popular literary productions dealing with southern life. Since it has been dramatized the play has proven one of the greatest attractions on the stage. It has been presented in Pittsburg recently, where it made a great hit. To present the play properly a carload of special scenery is employed, and a cast selected for the requirement of the plot.

It is the intention of Manager Penman to book only the best road shows, and he will probably not present one oftener than once a week. By this means he will be enabled to select only the best. In the meantime he will present moving pictures at the Coyle Theatre, three reels nightly.

PASS USER IS NOT ENTITLED TO SEAT

So Decides Court in Case Terminating from Affair on Local Car

Passengers who ride upon street cars in Pittsburg upon free passes may be ejected from their seats and the seats given to passengers who have paid cash fres, according to a decision in Allegheny county in criminal court before Judge Carnahan. A jury found Conductor Rudolph Green not guilty of assault and battery upon H. Garabet.

Garabet gave a street car pass as fare on a Charleroi car recently and was about to take a seat when prevented by Conductor Green who reminded him he was riding upon a free ticket. Green ejected Garabet after a fight. It is one of the standing rules of the railways company says Green, for cash pasengers to be given the preference over those riding upon passes Garabet was ordered to pay the costs.

A VOLCANIC BEACON.

rious Lighthouse of the Republic of San Salvador.

The republic of San Salvador, on the cific side of Central America, is the ly government on earth that collects ghthouse fees on account of a volno that it owns.

The volcanic beacon is about eight iles inland from the port of Acajutla d its pillar of cloud by day and its e sky night are visible for many iles out at sea. It erupts every seven inutes and is just as accurate as any volving light that warns mariners in y part of the world. This volcano s been keeping up this seven mia e series of eruptions ever since any e can remember. It is a favorite nusement of visiting gringoes to sit the hour during the lazy afternoons d, watch in hand, time the eruptions til they tire of the amusement and ll asleep.

Every vessel that puts in at Acatla—and it is quite an important port call along that part of the coast—s to pay its lighthouse fee. There is other lighthouse than the volcano, t that is a sufficient excuse for the vernment of Salvador to make a arge for its services. The explosions at accompany the eruptions sound like detonations of heavy charges of dynamite, but are not sufficient to shake the ground perceptibly more than a mile or two from the summit of the crater. At night there is a spurt of fire, a muffled report and a cloud of steam. By day only the steam is visible.—New York Press.

CONAN DOYLE WAS LATE.

The Lonely Schwarenbach Inn and a Literary Coincidence.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle once walked over the Gemmi. He was much impressed by the desolate appearance of the lonely looking Schwarenbach inn. Here, it seemed to him, was an ideal scene in which a novelist might locate a story of mystery and crime.

He proceeded to invent a story of mystery and crime suitable to the creepy environment. It was a story of murder—the murder of a long lost son just home from the wars by his own father, the needy innkeeper, who did not recognize him until after the deed was done, but had resolved to kill and rob the first lonely stranger that passed that way with money in his pocket.

"The very thing," thought Sir Arthur, and he went down the hill cheerfully revolving the morbid conception in his mind. Then a strange thing happened.

After dinner, in the hotel at Leukerbad, he picked up a volume of Maupassant's short stories and he found that the French author had not only been to the Schwarenbach inn before him, but had actually located there a story practically identical with the one which he himself had just devised.—Travel and Exploration.

The Gold Dust Was There.

North America has counted as a gold producing continent only since the late forties. But it might well have done so for about 200 years. According to the London Chronicle, in the voyage round the world which began in 1719 the privateer Captain Shelvocke found in certain California valleys "a rich black mold which, as you turn it fresh up to the sun, appears as if intermingled with gold dust. Though we were a little prejudiced," he adds, "against the thought that it could be possible that this metal should be so promiscuously and universally mingled with common earth, yet we endeavored to cleanse and wash the earth from some of it, and the more we did the more it appeared like gold. In order to be further satisfied I brought away some of it, which we lost in our confusion in China."

Resent the Calumy

The unjust and unwarranted attacks upon the personal character and business integrity of John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Govenor, should arouse the resentment and action of all his friends in this community. That they are untrue, unfounded and unwarranted, every one who knows Mr. Tener is fully aware, and that they are circulated for the express purpose of attempting to defeat him by foul means when fair means have failed, is also well known by Mr. Tener's personal friends and acquaintances. As John D. Berryman, a prominent Charleroi Democrat, said at the meeting of the Charleroi Business Men's Association last night, "the attacks on one of our citizens, are shameful, when we all know him to be a good and true man.

These attacks can be resented at the polls by Mr. Tener's friends. His detractors are asserting that he cannot carry his home town, and this is encouraging many covert attacks on the part of those who dare not come out in the open. Certain individuals are going up and down the river repeating scurrilous scandals, who are afraid to make the charges openly where they will not be believed. For this reason Mr. Tener's friends should make a united effort to give him a splendid indorsement at the polls. By uniting and getting the vote out his neighbors and friends can resent the foul calumnies which are being circulated without foundation or reason.

Tener and the Wage Earner

In a recent address to a gathering of miners Representative Tener discussed the attitude of the Republican party in this State towards labor. He referred to the many wholesome laws for the advancement of the wage earner enacted by that party and continued:

"Of this record we are justly proud, and we submit to its action in the past as a guarantee of our intentions in the future. We realize that the development of our industries has brought with it new problems, new dangers and altogether complex conditions that demand and deserve consideration and treatment by the law making and law administering power of our Commonwealth."

Mr. Tener then outlined some of the recommendations he will submit to the Legislature for the enactment of further legislation in the interest of laboring men and women. He referred especially to measures for the protection of the life and health of those who toil in the mines and factries, and emphasized the importance of the employers' liability law, whose operation, he said, should be broadened in justice to the wage earner.

It will be to the interest of every working man in Pennsylvania to vote the Republican ticket this year. A better friend of labor than John K. Tener has never been presented to the people as a candidate for Governor. His record as a citizen and as a public man in every sense confirms this statement. The pledge he made to wage earners to support their cause to the measure of his ability and influence was not a campaign platitude. He meant every word he uttered. With John K. Tener as Governor labor will be assured of a "square deal" at Harrisburg.

Then and Now

Former Congressman E. F. Acheson's paper, the Washington Observer, states that one of the idiocies of the campaign is the alarm among the wool growers of Washington county that their interests will be jeopardized by the election of a Congressman hostile to the tariff schedules that govern the price of this product. The Observer arraigns the Mail for trying to throw a scare into the farmers, and takes a fling at what it terms the "obnoxious schedule K of the Payne tariff bill," notwithstanding Mr. Acheson, when he was in Congress, voted for this same schedule in the Dingley bill, which is practically retained in the Payne bill at the urgent solicitation of all the wool grower in the country, Washington county included, which sent a delegation to the National capital to protest against the charge in this schedule.

The Observer says the farmers will pay no attention to the attacks on their interests by the Keystone party, because Mr. Gibbony, the Keystone candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has told them that this campaign is on State issues. He has told them that shamful conditions exist in Philadelphia and that the farmers should jeopardizing their own interests and vote his way because the people of Philadelphia do not have enough interest to regulate their own municipal affairs. When it has been authoritatively stated that at least one hundred thousand reputable citizens of Philadelphia failed to register because of their political indifference, it is pretty good evidence that Mr. Gibbony's lurid tales of that city are somewhat overdrawn. Anyhow what has the rest of the State got to do with it? Only the people of Philadephia can regulate their own affairs, and that is no reason why the Washington county wool growers should vote to jeopardize their interests.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

There was a young man from Chicago,
Who wanted to see a buzz saw go;
He shouted "By gum!
It wasn't much fun
To see the whole of my paw go!"

State Game Commissioner Joseph Kalbfus says the game season opened too early. That isn't the opinion of some fellows, who think the season should last from January 1 to January 1.

It seems the North American's attack is only one of its chronic performances upon candidates in general.

At the last report where was President Taft? He couldn't surely have been in Washington.

Marguerita Silva says she can't dress in less than ninety minutes. Some Charleroi women waste that much time putting on their hats.

Coming

A Joke on the [illegible]

Sir Ernest Cassel was [illegible] with King Edward VII. As a matter of fact there was a curious and striking resemblance between the [illegible] view of the late king and that of Sir Ernest. It was so pronounced that the great financier was known among his friends as "Windsor Castle."

There is a good story and a true one told in connection with this. It happened at a garden party at Windsor castle. A well known peer of the realm was strolling about when, as he thought, he spotted Sir Ernest sitting in a chair. Going toward him on tiptoe, he gave him a resounding smack on the shoulder.

"Hello, old Windsor Castle!" he cried. "How are you?"

The occupant of the chair, startled, turned around. It was King Edward, who, unaware of Sir Ernest's nickname, was for a time exceedingly vexed at this undue liberty. However, when the circumstances were explained to him he enjoyed the joke hugely.—London M. A. P.

More Industries for Charleroi the Keynote of Talks by Business Men

country, which was an alphabetical curiosity. He also dwelt upon the necessity of more small industries for Charleroi, and told some interesting personal ancedotes. He then led in singing the "Stein Song" in which the company joined.

C. H. Truxal of Belle Vernon told how the Civic League had secured a new railroad station by sending a committee direct to the road officials instead of knocking through the newspapers. Belle Vernon, he said, had over 250 men employed in the Monessen mills and this is one of the reasons for the good roads movement between the two towns.

Dr. H. J. Repman spoke of changing conditions which are taking people away from the vicinity of Charleroi, and the necessity of counteracting these movements. E. C. Niver spoke on the necessity of getting information and data concerning the town, in order that future action for its advancement might be carried on more intelligently. W. D. Pollock said it was the duty of all to try to stop the exodus of Charleroi people to the west and other places, and to provide so far as possible more available houses for the town. Wm. Kirk, who was a leading spirit in the old Merchants Association, which is now merged into the Business Men's Association, spoke optimistically of what is in the future and was hopeful of increased results.

C. R Perigren, manager of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, who is a recent comer to the town, spoke highly of conditions and the future. Being of Welsh extraction himself, he poked some fun at Prof. Daniel by relating a legend as to how the Welsh language originated. He said that at the confusion of tongues in the construction of the Tower of Babel, one of the workmen was looking up with his mouth open, when some one above dropped some mortar into the yawning cavity. The man below gave a couple of snorts, like a goose with a straw in its throat, and this was the origin of the Welsh tongue.

To prove this story Prof. Daniel recited some Welsh poetry, which was a correct imitation of a hare-lipped man "speaking a piece."

N. Greenberg said that few towns were so strongly intrenched in religious, social and fraternal life. He thought the town was not so lively as used to be and advocated more vigor to make it so. J. D. Berryman said he would have to differ with Mr Greenberg, and believed more business was done here than ever before, but because we all are carrying heavier burdens than atthe start the impression has gained ground that we are not progressing He said such impressions often gained currency without foundation and work harm

"As an example," he said, "one of our best citizens is being unjustly maligned over all the State when we at home here know him to be a good and true man."

D. H. Johnson, local manager of the West Penn Electric company, expressed himself as willing to help boost in every possible manner, and W S. James, superintendent of the Macbeth-Evans factory, told of the merits of the building and loan association plan for working people to get their own homes.

Charles O. Frye, who was census supervisor of this district, and consequently on the inside as to Charleroi's population, said he knew something he would like to tell but couldn't Nevertheless, Charleroi and Washington county will have reason to feel proud when the results are made public. He advocated vigorous measures in putting vacant lots on the market, and the employment of a permanent secretary to boom Charleroi's interests. He also stated that there were still some good factory sites in Charleroi.

After a few complimentary remarks by E. W. Hastings, assistant secretary and treasurer of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company, Toastmaster Clark thanked the company for the most profitable session, and the meeting adjourned by singing "America."

Beggars and Bandages.

It was a case in which first aid to the injured was imperative, but no one present knew how to extend the aid. Presently a bandaged beggar who had been sitting on the curb cast off his pretense of helplessness. Out of linen strips provided by the women in the crowd he fashioned bandages and applied them skillfully.

"Where did you acquire all that skill in nursing?" a bystander asked.

"It is one of the first things the men of our profession learn," was the candid response. "Half our success depends upon arrangement of bandages that makes us look as if we had been half killed. No doctor can be depended on to fix us up, so we have to do our own bandaging. Every successful man in the business practices on himself and the other fellows until he can turn out a first class job."

ROAR OF BIG GUNS.

The Effect Upon the Nerves and the Sense of Hearing.

One of the penalties attendant on firing off big guns is deafness. So sure is this penalty to be exacted that, it is asserted, no man can go through a long series of gunnery practice without having his hearing affected. A stranger on deck who hears a big gun speak for the first time will not soon forget the stunning report.

One gun is enough to startle a stranger, but the shattering effect of the whole armament when in action together can hardly be conceived. The strain upon nerves and senses when the rending concussion takes place is terrible.

There is not a great difference between the effect of the big guns and that of the smaller pieces, strange as it may seem. If the visitor places himself beside one of the smaller guns and then listens to the roar of the big one, the sound will not appear much louder than that of the gun by his side. The extra distance to the muzzle of the big piece discounts the sound. The only apparent difference between the two will be that the smaller piece has a sharper, higher pitched tone, and that the big guns speak with a more bellowing roar.

If one watches the firing of the gun the crash has not such a startling effect as when it comes unexpectedly. Loud as it is, nature has prepared the watcher to resist the shock which he knows is impending.—Exchange.

ROMAN ARENAS.

They Were Not Mere Rings as Those of the Modern Circus.

The arenas of ancient Rome were not, as some people suppose, mere rings or ovals, such as may be seen in the modern circus. They were broken up and varied in character according to the nature of the fighting to be done or to the caprices of those in authority.

On one occasion an arena might resemble the Numidian desert, on another the garden of Hesperides, thick set with groves of trees and rising mounds, while again it pictured the great rocks and caves of Thrace.

With these surroundings the combatants advanced, retreated, encircled their adversaries or kept wild beasts at bay as occasion offered or as their courage or fear suggested. Men combated not only with the more common brutes, but with such monsters as elephants, rhinoceroses, hippopotamuses and crocodiles.

On other occasions flocks of game, such as deer and war ostriches, were abandoned to the multitude, and in some cases the arenas could be turned into lakes, filled with monsters of the deep, and upon the surface of which naval engagements took place.—London Saturday Review.

Hints to Swimmers.

An expert swimmer is authority for the assertion that a vast majority of the drowning casualties which are attributed to cramps are in all probability the result of cardiac exhaustion. Nearly all experienced swimmers, he says, know that cramps when in the water are of comparatively infrequent occurrence. It is usually in the calf of the leg and the swimmer by lying quietly upon the back without undue alarm and stretching out the leg may overcome this sometimes painful involuntary muscular contraction. The exertion of swimming in cold water, is fully equal to the exertion of rowing, with the additional tax upon the system of a gradual lowering of the bodily temperature. It is one thing to know how to swim and quite another to be in a physical condition to do the swimming.—London Globe.

The Most Important Thing.

Commander Peary, at one of the numerous Washington dinners following his triumphant return from the pole, got the better of a senator in a war of wits.

"What is the good of your discovery?" the senator said. "I'll wager that you didn't find a single important thing at the north pole."

"Oh, yes, I did," said the explorer. "I found one very, very important thing."

"Humph! What was that?" the senator grunted.

"The way back home again," was the reply.

Hate All Around.

The famous English chief justice Holt and his wife hated each other to the limit, and when she fell dangerously ill he was so delighted that he became disgracefully tipsy. But his wife was equal to the emergency and sent for the great Dr. Radcliffe, who hated Holt, and therefore out of spite when the case was presented to him came with great promptness and saved her life.—Westminster Gazette.

Old Enough to Notice.

"Are your papa and mamma at home?" asked the caller.

"No," replied little Marguerite. "One of them may be here, but they never are both at home at the same time."

Told Him.

"What's that boy yelling at?" asked the farmer of his son.

"Why," chuckled the boy, "he's just yelling at the top of his voice."

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brookfield, Mo.—"Two years ago I was unable to do any kind of work and only weighed 118 pounds. My trouble dates back to the time th[e] women may expect trouble to bring on the Change of Life. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel much better, and I have continued its use. I am very grateful to you for the good health I am now enjoying."—Mrs. SARAH LOUSIGNONT, 414 S. Livingston Street, Brookfield, Mo.

The [illegible] critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Honest Values - Liberal Credit

We ask you and every inteligent man and woman not to judge the People's Store by the kind of merchandise offered at other so-called credit stores, but by the excellent values and the dignified credit you receive here.

See These Special Garments

The diagonal cloth all lined long coats we are now selling at $15.98 has created a sensation in the cloak trade. Other stores are asking $3 to $5 more for garments made much inferior, and of cheaper fabrics.

Why Not Get the Best?

The diagonal cloth of which our garments are made is the latest fad in fabrics. It looks much better than plain, common serge, and will wear better than broadcloth. Our guarantee is back of every garment to be all wool and strictly pure worsted, and it cannot be duplicated in any other store at our price---cash or credit.

We Offer Many Other Special Values

Men's Suits and Top Coats, newest models,	$10.00 to $25.00
Ladies' and Misses' Strictly Hand Tailored Suits,	12.95 to 35.00
Ladies' and Misses' Dresses, cloth, voile and velvet,	15.98 up
